■ HATTERAS, 80 Motor Yacht, 77 Convertible

The just-launched Hatteras 80 Motor Yacht features an open flybridge or optional skylounge and the builder's popular convex hull design with a durable solid-fiberglass hull bottom. Another recent Hatteras debut, the 77 Convertible (pictured) is designed to appeal to both cruisers and sportfishermen with a wide selection of interior layout options and specifications. Standard with an enclosed flybridge, sweeping interior stairwell and Cat C32s, the 77 can be optioned with top-rated 2,400-hp MTUs. Fuel capacity of 3,000 gallons gives her an impressive range of 500 nautical miles. Contact Hatteras at 252-634-4895. www.hatterasyachts.com

■ HINCKLEY, T55, T38R Convertible

At just more than 55 feet in length, Hinckley's Bruce King-designed T55 will be on display at this year's Miami show. This cruising vessel features Hinckley's DualGuard hull constructed with the SCRIMP resin-infusion process and a three-mode JetStick integrated steering control system. Twin 800-hp Cats come standard for a range of 411 nautical miles, while upgraded 1,000-hp Cat C18s deliver a 31-knot cruise and impressive 38-knot top end. Building upon the success of its T29 runabout, Hinckley will also show its new T38R Convertible (pictured), designed by Ward Setzer and featuring the marine industry's first push-button convertible top. Contact The Hinckley Company at 866-HINCKLEY. www.thehinckleycompany.com

Neptunus Yachts' 70 Skylounge (pictured) makes its first public showing in Miami. Designed and styled by Gregory Marshall, the 70 features a comfortable, climate-controlled helm and lounge area with dayhead that offers easy interior access to the accommodations. The enclosed-flybridge 70 Motor Yacht, which also has a climate-controlled helm area, departs from the skylounge model with flybridge windows that can be opened or removed completely for uninhibited airflow. Also on display is the Neptunus 62 Motor Yacht, the 56 Flybridge and the 55 Cabrio. Contact Neptunus Yachts at 905-937-3737. www.neptunusyachts.com

■ NORDHAVN, N76

A joint effort by naval architect Jeff Leishman, the Pacific Asian Enterprises (PAE) design and engineering team and PAE's Ta Shing factory in Taiwan, the semi-custom Nordhavn 76 is based on the hullform and specs of her builder's smaller Nordhavn 72. Like the N72, this Northwest-style trawler features an aft pilothouse and foredeck tender storage. Three ensuite staterooms, a gourmet galley, large salon and dining area, as well as three open-air entertainment areas, round out the accommodations on this large-scale, modern passagemaker. The N76, which can be configured with either a bulbous or conventional bow, is available with a choice of twin engines or a single Series 60 MTU. Contact Nordhavn at 949-496-4848. www.nordhavn.com »
