R Marine

Rivera will unveil three world releases during the 2008 show. The new Riviera 61 Enclosed Flybridge, the 38 Open Flybridge and the 'sport utility' 48 Offshore Express. Grand Banks has selected Riviera's R Marine display at the Show for the world release of the Grand Banks 65 Aleutian RP model. The R Marine display includes a total of five Grand Banks and seven Princess models, the largest display of these iconic international brands seen in Australia. "Our Princess display will show the new V70 Sport Yacht for the first time in Australia as well as a new 62 Flybridge model among its seven-boat collection."

Hampton 680 Pilothouse

Australasian Marine Imports is bringing the Hampton 680 Pilothouse to Australia. Designed and built for comfortable and dependable cruising, this solidly built cruiser has covered side decks and furniture quality interiors. The wide beam of more than 18ft allows for a comfortable living space. The planing hull of the Hampton 680 incorporates a modified deep-V design with high forward deadrise sections for a smooth entry in head seas and flatter aft section with reverse chines to provide an efficient planing surface.

Maritimo

This year's Sanctuary Cove International Boat Show will see Maritimo make a radical move as it displays the first of a planned three-model range of European-styled cabriolet sport boats. The first boat, a 60-footer, will, according to sales and marketing manager Peter Jenkins, prove to be the sensation of the show.

"This boat will be magnificent in every sense," he said, "from its luxurious and spacious interior to its performance on the water."In addition to the Cabriolet 60, Maritimo will be unveiling another new model, the Maritimo 50 Sport Fish, a smaller version of the hard-charging battlewagon, the Maritimo 550, which will also be on display.

Mackeddie Marine

Mackeddie Marine is launching Platinum in a world first at Sanctuary Cove. The 37m custom motor yacht was built in Launceston, Tasmania. The vessel offers accommodation for 10 with four double cabins and an owner's or honeymoon suite on the main deck. The hull is made from 8mm steel with a superstructure of 6mm alloy. Jack Mackeddie says the vessel is built for charter use, reflected by the deck spa for six, the flybridge with table seating for up to 10 and custom-built refrigerator and sink. Sanctuary Cove exhibitor Traditional Timbers Interiors designed and built the interior for the boat.
